A trip to Scotland

I settled at Pouyau de Boisset in 2002 with my husband. I'm very proud to have taken on this estate, which since its foundation has been passed down from woman to woman, and which is charged with history. Pouyau de Boisset belonged to the Maison Forte de Boisset, a fortified manor house built in the 15th century, which even appeared in the Cocks & Féret wine directory as a Premier Cru Bourgeois.

Château Pouyau de Boisset

BLAYE CÔTES DE BORDEAUX

Village : Berson

Total surface of the vineyard : 9 hectares

Type of soils : Clay-limestone

Blend of grape varieties : 70 % Merlot, 30 % Cabernet Sauvignon

Wine vinification : Fermentation for 10 days then gentle maceration for up to 3 weeks. Running off and pressing of pomace before blending. Malolactic fermentation and aging in concrete vats.

Tasting notes : Strong, deep garnet colour. The subtle nose opens with notes of fresh fruit and red berries. The attack is frank, supple and full-bodied. Tangy aromas mingle with notes of liquorice. A harmonious, generous wine.

Wine and Food pairing : Game
