Ludovic GREFFIER

Do you have a motto that you particularly like ?
Capture the opportunities

What do you like about other people ?
Their conviviality

Which job do you prefer in your activity ?
Trade

What is the biggest madness you've ever done ?
Have a drink at 800km

This property of more than 150 years which produces exclusively dry white intends to continue in tradition with a fifth generation in place. This specificity makes the Vignobles GREFFIER one of the biggest producers of Entre Deux Mers today. This Bordeaux vineyard covers 74 hectares grouped around the estate including the highest point of the Gironde. The choice of soil grasses for 25 years allows a good control of the vines. With a view to quality, we use efficient winemaking techniques such as pneumatic pressurization under inert gas, perfect control of fermentation and storage temperatures, controlled lees breeding, or the air conditioning of all the wineries of the estate (wineries, bottling, etc....).

Château Tertre de Launay ENTRE DEUX MERS

Village : Soussac

Vineyard surface : 74 hectares

Soils : Clay-limestone

Grape varieties : 35% Sémillon, 20% Sauvignon Blanc, 20% Sauvignon Gris, 20% Muscadelle and 5% Ungi Blanc

Wine making process : On fine lees, stainless steel vats, regulated temperatures, cold fermentation.

Tasting notes : Surprising by a beautiful pale yellow color and limpid. Nice fruity and floral nose by its scents of citrus, white flowers and menthol. On the palate the wine expresses a good freshness with a very good balance between roundness, vivacity and fruity. The finish is long and subtle with good aromatic persistence.

Wine pairings : Carpaccio of Saint Jacques
