Your real-life heroes or heroines?

My father

Château Les Aubastons is the very first vineyard of my family that spreads over 11 hectares of vines in one piece and which shelters an ancient Gironde house that used to serve the winery's workers. I joined in 2009 the business as the fifth generation of the ARNAUD family and I am proud to carry on the reputation and traditional savoir-faire. We have always wished to favour the terroir's expression and the quality of our wines. That is why I have been running my vineyard according to organic agriculture since 2021.
